

Carol Ann Hickman and Lynda McGee, Secretary and Vice-President of the Junior Class, provided leadership and new ideas.

Juniors

Completing our year of confusion and self-consciousness as sophomores, we juniors assumed our new responsibilities with enthusiasm and spirit. Climaxed by this year's unequalled prom, 1965 has been a year of hard work, determination, and satisfaction. The Talent Assembly, coronations, and money-raising projects were only a few of our activities as juniors. We look forward to a senior year filled with accomplishments, good times, and pleasant memories. But for us juniors, 1965, that was the year that was.

Helping the juniors by giving time and hard work were the Junior Class Sponsors. Bottom row: Mrs. Beth Smalley, Mrs. Leslie Worley, Mrs. Shirley Calkins, and Mrs. Alice Robinson. Top row: Mr. Doyle Edge, Mr. Wray Littlejohn, Miss Hope Wood, Mrs. Mary Hartsock, Mr. Leon Rauch, and Mr. Jim Park.

Mike Eubanks, James Adair, and Tom Love wave goodbye as Mrs. Ritzman gives the ladder an unseen push from underneath.

John Ward and David James seem amused by some unknown quip in their algebra book.

Sophomores

We, the Sophomores, plunged into the world of Norman High with mixed emotions, hope, anxiety, and a little uncertainty. With the help of our sponsors, teachers, and officers, we have strived to top all records of Sophomore achievements. We have shown unequalled enthusiasm in all phases of school life. Looking forward to our remaining years as Tigers, we will never forget our Sophomore year, 1965. For us, that was the year that was.

*Steve,
You really are brilliant and I feel guilty even if you are you seem like a person that would work hard for anything you believe in and I really admire a person like that. Good luck always though I know you won't need it.*

Other '65 Sophomore Class officers were: Sunny Sims, Vice-President and Carol Webb, Secretary.

The 1965 Sophomore Sponsors were: Mrs. Virginia Hughes, Mrs. Pat McClure, Miss Jean Sugden, Mr. Jerry Glasgow, and Mr. J. J. Brown. Not pictured is Mr. Grover Sawyer.

Ronnie Young, Norman Hoover, Steve Bradley, Lee Boyd, and Rodger Shell listen to Mark Frenley while Larry Huffman finds something else more interesting.
